

Sport, the best medicine to lower blood pressure

Written by
DATE_FORMAT_LC2 - Last Updated DATE_FORMAT_LC2

People who eat healthily and exercise regularly, have significantly lower blood pressure compared to the average member of the population. Overweight people, especially, suffer from the consequences of high blood pressure and they can improve their health significantly by changing their diet and practicing sport regularly.